

TRISH BAINBRIDGE

Graduate in Marriage Celebrancy,
Victoria University, Melbourne
Diploma Funeral Celebrancy
Member of the Association of Civil Marriage Celebrants of Victoria

I am passionate about people, life, love and laughter. As a wife, mother and grandmother I bring a warmth and understanding to ceremonies. As a professional businesswoman I bring a depth of sincerity and professionalism to my ceremonies.

Should you choose me as your wedding celebrant it will give me much pleasure in working with you to create a ceremony in which you publicly declare your love, hopes and dreams for each other and which is uniquely “you”.

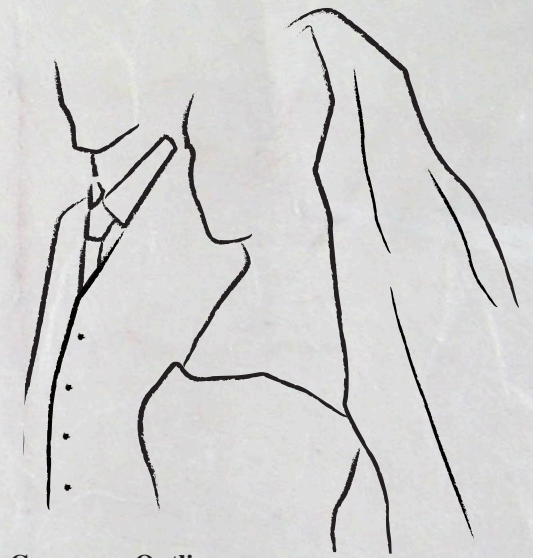

I particularly enjoy writing the couple’s “love” story. From that we can create a personalised ceremony that is reflective of you, your family and friends and your culture.

You have given much thought to your wording, the pinnacle of which is the public declaration of your vows. Your wedding guests love to hear your pledge of love to each other – it is timeless and special, that is why I have a PA system to ensure the ceremony in its entirety can be clearly heard.

While working on your ceremony, I am freely available by telephone or email and will encourage and guide you without fuss all the way through. A rehearsal with the full wedding party ensures that you know what to expect on “your day”.

It would be a privilege for me to be your celebrant and I invite you to contact me to discuss your exciting day.
